

More Extras From Oxford

Disease Management

Oxford provides a host of voluntary disease management programs designed to help participants with chronic conditions better understand their illness and better manage it with the help of their doctors. Some of these programs include:

- Active Care Engagement Program is a health management program designed specifically for high-risk individuals with heart failure, coronary artery disease, or diabetes.
- Oxford also offers a Cancer Support Program, which provides case management services to participants with cancer, who are at least 18 years old, do not have acute leukemia, and are currently in active treatment.
- If you or a loved one suffer from asthma, you may be interested in Oxford's Better Breathing Program which, along with educational resources, also provides supplies like spacers and peak flow meters at no charge.
- The Heart Smart Program helps participants with cardiovascular disease and congestive heart failure understand and improve their health and quality of life.
- Additional programs offered by Oxford are: COPD Program - Depression Program - Living With Diabetes - and more.

For additional information on these programs and more, log on to www.oxford-health.com and click on the "Tools & Resources" tab in the menu bar at the top of the page. Then, click the link for "Healthy Bonus Member Discounts."

Healthy Bonus values...

Extra values from UnitedHealthCare include the Healthy Bonus Program, which offers free and discounted magazine subscriptions, discounts in stores like Brookstone, GreenMarket.com and National Allergy Supply, to name a few. You can also take advantage of discounts on books including, Pickles and Ice Cream; A Father's Guide to Pregnancy and more. The Healthy Bonus program is just one more example of Oxford's ongoing commitment to helping participants keep their mind, body and spirit healthy - and saving them some money in the process.

Valuable Extras From Oxford Gym Reimbursement

The new Oxford Sweat Equity Program was developed with your busy and diverse lifestyle in mind. Instead of earning reimbursement for working out only in fitness facilities promoting cardiovascular wellness, participants can now earn reimbursement for participating in classes ranging from aerobics, Pilates, and yoga, to boot camps and weight resistance training. Individuals can even combine programs from a variety of different facilities and fitness classes to reach the required 50 visits and/or classes needed in each six-month period to receive the maxium $200 reimbursement value.

What hasn't changed is that you must be an active participant, visiting the gym or attending exercise classes – or a combination of both – at least 50 times within a six month period. The reimbursement period begins the day of your first class and ends sixth months after that first visit. A new reimbursement period will begin one day after your first reimbursement period ends.

Reimbursement forms can be found by going to www.rnbenefits.org and clicking on the Benefits Forms page.
